Germany Close Up – American Jews Meet Modern Germany is a youth encounter program for Jewish, North American students and young professionals aged between 18 and 39. The programs aim to give participants the opportunity to experience contemporary Germany firsthand by providing a framework for experience and exploration. The program does not try to present one set picture, but rather to expose participants to a variety of elements that make up Germany today. All programs contain units looking at both the past and the present.

Germany Close Up was established in October 2007 and is currently administered by Action Reconciliation Service for Peace (Aktion Sühnezeichen Friedensdienste e.V.) in cooperation with the New Synagogue Berlin – Centrum Judaicum Foundation. Germany Close Up is funded by a grant from the German Government's Transatlantic Program, which draws on funds from the European Recovery Program (ERP) of the German Federal Ministry for Economic Affairs and Energy.

Declaration of Consent

For my co-work in this production, I transfer to Germany Close Up and Aktion Sühnezeichen Friedensdienste the right—unlimited in terms of time, place, and content—to use my personal rights in the photographic, cinematographic, and sound recordings. I consent to the designated texts and images being used as described above and to the transferring of the rights to third parties. This consent is revocable at any time. To the extent to which it is unrevoked, this consent is valid for an unlimited period of time. The granting of rights is made for no remuneration, and it includes the right to rework/make adaptations as long as they do not distort anything.

The consent is granted voluntarily. No disadvantages ensue from refusing to grant consent or from revoking it.

[ ] I agree to the stating of my name with publishing the photographs.

Information pursuant to data protection law:

The personal data provided is being collected, processed, and used for the purposes communicated in the concrete case. The provision of personal data is voluntary, and the processing and use of the data can be revoked at any time for the future. All that is required for this is a notification sent by e-mail to Germany Close Up at office@germanycloseup.de. Further information regarding our data processing practices is set out in our Data Protection Information, which is available in the office of Germany Close Up at Auguststraße 80, 10117 Berlin and on our website www.germanycloseup.de. We can also send it to you by post at your request.

Through the use intended, especially the publication in the Internet, the images of persons and/or their names as well as other published information relating to the persons in the images can be retrieved and stored worldwide. Such data can therefore also be found via such things as search engines. And because search engines archive data, data can often still be retrieved even when the information has been deleted from the aforementioned online services or has been changed. The placing of your signature below confirms that you have been informed about the information duties set out in Article 13 of the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) when personal data is collected.
